Last Will and Testament

Having lost our sanity and most of our material possessions during the past four years at McBurney, we — the Class of 1956 — have very little to bequeath to our successors. However, the spirit of generosity absorbed from our teachers impels us to make the following bequests:

Doug McCartney leaves his frog kick to the science department to further their study of evolution,

Mike Abrahams donates his smile, his jokes, his deck of cards, and his ties to Roger "What a delightful boy" Wheeler,

Paul Arneth leaves his red hair-dye to Mr. Hardenbergh,

Rod Nash hands the Student Council back to Mr. Bowman, who will now have to go it alone,

Jack Fields bequeaths his Brooks Brothers labels and Robert Hall charge-a-plate to Richard Price,

We present our gift — whatever it may be — to everyone but Jonathan Kapp, who would never let us play with the recorder donated by the boys of '55,

Bruce Brown gladly wills his blush to Steve Kroll.

Steve Heyman leaves the blazers to our grandchildren,

Peter Greenwald donates his trombone to any one who can play it,

Bow Lum Lee leaves the care of Mr. Deme to Robert Yin

We present to all who can reach that high a box of Brillo to keep the nose of Robert Ross McBurney bright and shiny,

For Mr. Leonard's benefit we add an eighth day to the week,

Andy Ullman sends his horse to the glue factory,

Mickey Shapiro leaves Gordon Young sleeping in the Chem laboratory,

To anyone who can drown out Pete Greenwald's trombone, Ray Paganelli leaves his union card.

So we pass on to the great beyond of college life, leaving these things but taking with us that much more precious article — knowledge.

Signed and sealed,
Class of '56

FRESHMAN I

1952

Believe it or not, this is the Class of '56. The only difference is that these pictures were taken in 1952. Do they look better or worse? Seems to me that quite a few lost some weight during their four years at hard labor in McBurney. That fellow sitting at the left-hand corner of the picture is none other than Bruce Brown. Can't say we thought then that Bruce would be editor of the Lamp and Laurel. Next to Bruce is Swingin' Eric Deutsch. Eric swung ahead of the rest of us and graduated in three years. The big one right in the middle is our boy, "Flesh" Calise. Seems Bill is still smiling. Seated on the end is Mike Abrahams. I think Mike is trying to outstare the camera. Willy

Caterson is the crew-cut in the back row. He's grown a little since then, hasn't he? The man with the broad shoulders next to Will is the "Canarsie Kid", Ben DuBose. Beneath Robert Ross McBurney, we find Pete Eichhorn. Pete has become quite an athlete, with letters in swimming, football, and track. That's changeless Alex Bobrovsky in the back row. The fellow with the arrogant look is Jack Fields. Jack made a name for himself as editor of the McBurneian. Tricky Dick Bier is next to Jack. A few years later, Dick became a fine tennis player and leader of the Yorkville Squad. That beefy guy in the right corner is Red Arneith, who's a little slimmer now.

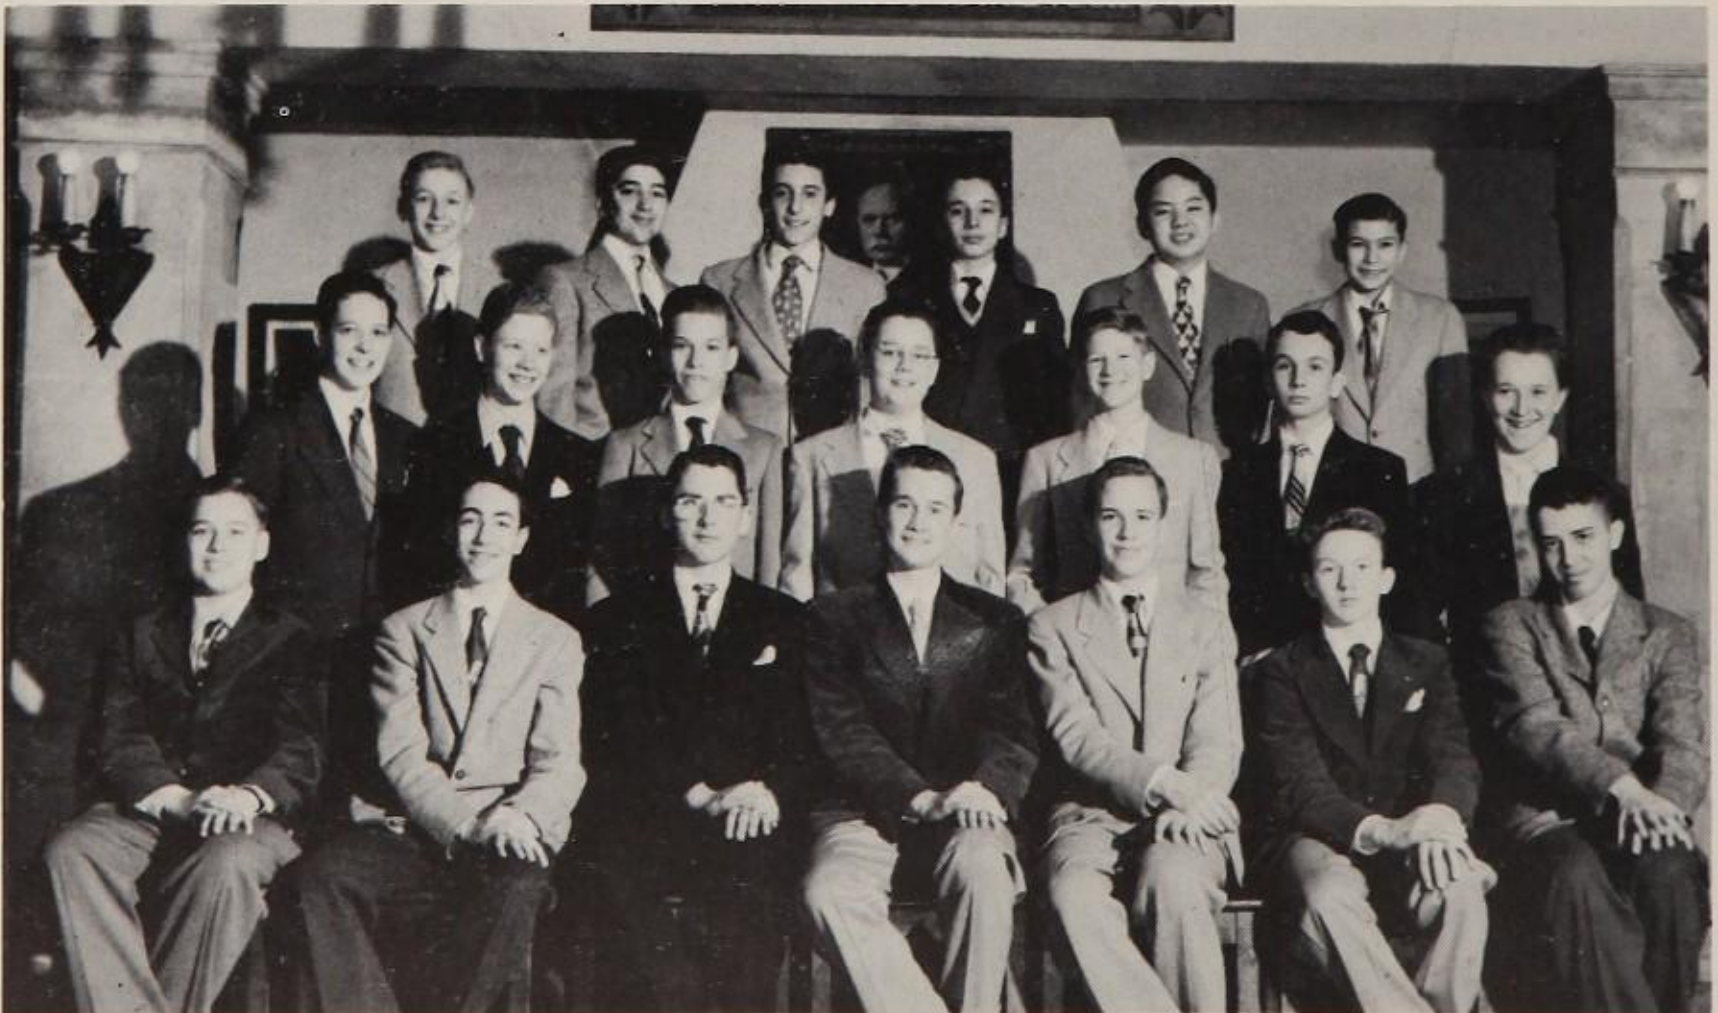

FRESHMAN II

This is another Senior Class four years before. Herbe Kempe is sitting right up front. Herb went to M.I.T. three years later, but he looks like a typical freshman here. Next to Herb is Leon Lantzounis, who's still smiling, although no one has been able to figure out Leon's sense of humor. We've forgotten that fellow next to Leon, but who could forget the fellow in the center? That's Doug McCartney, our All-American swimmer. Next to Doug is Pete Greenwald. Pete looks as if he was just caught with his hand in the cookie jar. The middle row holds a lot of faces that are gone

now. However, that's George Littman with a smile straight from the rogue's gallery. Bob Harriman is in the center of the middle row. I think Bob must have stopped eating. Leonard Jompulski is next to Bob. That big smile could only mean that Leonard has finally outwitted Mr. Bowman. Bob Greco is at the rear with Robert Ross McBurney glaring over his shoulder. Mr. Deme's right-hand man, "Ho Hum" Lee, comes next. Many of the boys in this picture are no longer at McBurney, but someone always seems to fill the empty places, and the class is still at sixty boys.

FRESHMAN III

Here's more Frosh of '52, alias Seniors of '56. Those boyish faces now look more like men. Can't recall who that is sitting in the left corner, but we know that's John Sloss up in front. John's sitting there giving the camera a big smile. The fellow with the fancy vest is Fred Pivko, now the last of the famous "Ben-Yettes". Charley Thiel is still wearing that same tie that he has on in this picture. Looking like the "before" of a Toni Permantent ad, we find the future president of Student Council, Bill Rose. The boy on the left is Herb Zapf. Herb's gotten a lot thinner from all the swimming he does, and I predict he'll be the next Charles Atlas. Right in the middle, always smiling, is Dave Mills. Dave looks good enough to make the All-City Soccer Team right there. The fellow at the end of the row with the dreamy look is Rod Nash. Wonder if the dream is about a girl? Carl Reinhardt starts the top row. He's really got a sharp tie there. That's Gordie Young next to Carl. Where's the D.A. haircut? Mickey Shapiro has worked so hard in four years that he has gotten a lot thinner. That guy behind Mickey just likes to have his picture taken. He doesn't look like a frosh to me. Wally Stevenson is watching something out of the corner of his eye. That couldn't be a girl, could it, Wally? Roberto Rosenberg, the Liberace of our class, is in Venezuela training for a career as a concert pianist. This completes the Class of '56. Any resemblance to persons living or dead is purely coincidental.

SENIOR

SEPTEMBER AND OCTOBER

Summer ends three days early . . . we return to McBurney on September 18. The members of the faculty smile upon us, assuring us that we are the best senior class ever. The smell of liniment permeates the halls as the athletes return from conditioning camp. Mike Abrahams looks over the new seniors to see if there is anyone among them who might challenge his academic rating . . . there is no threat. Field Day is rained out, cheating the boys of their chance to beat the faculty at baseball . . . Ties and jackets are compulsory again . . . what weird color combinations! Rumor has it that Panorama, defunct for two years, may be published again. The soccer team starts the season with a series of wins . . . the football players do not fare so well.

NOVEMBER

Senior privileges are granted for the first time in many years. Steve Heyman begins to take orders for McBurney jackets . . . it is reported that they will be worn by the glee club at the Christmas concert. Reports reach home . . . "don't you remember your own youth, Dad?" The first dance is a success. A yearbook staff is collected . . . Andy Ullman becomes business manager on condition that his horse be made his assistant. Mr. Yeh, discovering that his advanced algebra class can't think in English, writes Think in Chinese on the front wall of 304 . . . marks immediately improve. The little men in green crepe defeat the sophs in the annual Freshman Day games.

DECEMBER

The dramatic club performs Dickens' Christmas Carol with Messrs. Scudder, Hardenbergh, and Weeks in the caste . . . plus numerous young ladies . . . as a result Dr. Quinn has many applications for parts in the senior play. Mr. Deme collects McCartney, Bill Rose, Caterson and company and starts them splashing in the pool every afternoon from three till four. Some seniors want to apply to Big Ten University . . . why not? isn't Big Ten football the best in the country? Christmas vacation starts early for many students . . . after all they couldn't permit their parents to go to Florida without proper protection.

JANUARY

The swimming team, as everyone expected, runs away with the dual meets, even winning from City College freshmen . . . The basketball players are not quite as successful. The Third Father and Son Banquet is eaten . . . Rod Nash is the only senior present; the others are sleeping up for the College Boards the next day . . . Rod's father is the speaker of the evening. Mills, Parr, Brown, and Arneth travel to colleges for interviews. Slifka wins the Hobby Talks with a homemade burglar alarm. The swimming team spends a weekend at Brown, coming in third in the first invitation tourney of the year.

HI-LITES

FEBRUARY

College Boards marks arrive . . . the class average in verbals is 590. Nash and Cox are elected president and vice-president. All is peace at the Packer dance. After eight years of patient effort, McBurney acquires a Drivers Education car. The merman beat Peekskill at Colgate to become state champs . . . the medley relay team sets a new meet mark at Princeton. The basketball team wins three straight. The first of the college acceptances come in . . . Brown to Columbia, Mills to Swarthmore, and Florence to Oklahoma.

APRIL

Young, Snyder, and Leffler are seen in the streets appropriating new hub caps for McBurney's pet Chevrolet. The hockey team loses the Stanley Cup by default . . . no ice in the swimming pool. Trial by Jury and Down in the Valley are howling successes. Jeremie Griffith creates the missing link in the lab . . . the average I.Q. of the school rises. McCartney, Rose, Eichhorn — even Caterson and Zapf swim their way into college. Acceptances pour in so fast that the office has trouble keeping the seniors posted. Spring fever hits the class, but no one seems to mind except the baseball, track, tennis, and golf coaches.

MARCH

The natators win the Westchester and A.A.-P.S. meets by large margins . . . never has McBurney produced such a team. Parents-Alumni Night draws a huge crowd. The Ninth Grade basketball team wins the district championship but loses in the borough. Minoia gives Colgate the once over. Caterson and Gavigan invade the Emma Willard School for girls. Mr. Leonard has a nervous breakdown when Sloss gets behind the controls of the new car. Now and then Steve Heyman brings up the subject of the blazers. Rumor has it that the McBurney schedule is going to be revised, eliminating the noon general education periods.

MAY AND JUNE

The Maypole Dance is a huge success . . . so is the May Day Parade. The Junior-Senior Prom at the N.Y.A.C. enlivens things for a few days. The dramatists present The Hasty Heart. Recognition Day . . . "he who hasn't given the faculty some reason for recognizing him has certainly wasted his year." Clubs Banquet . . . more awards . . . also big, black cigars. Mr. Leonard leaves for Europe . . . he wants to pick up some driving pointers from the taxi men of Paris. Graduation comes at last.

Old seniors never die; they just pass!

McBURNIEY FOREVER

*When the task is hard and the day is long,
Then watch McBurney fight.
When the luck's all wrong and our strength 'most gone
And the foemen are cheery and bright,
Then our rooters roar: "We must score once more,"
And we rise up and smite them in our might,
"On McBurney!" Play the game all together,
And their banner is ours tonight.*

*When the last long rays of the setting sun
Bathe the field in a golden light,
When the day is done and the victory won
And the hearts of McBurney are bright,
Then a hundred voices rise in song
And we cheer for the dear old Green and White:
Oh, McBurney, may she live forever,
And may victory crown each fight.*

*When the last glad day of the long bright years
Has gone and the parting comes,
When we say farewell 'mid the ringing cheers
Of the fellows who call us their chums.
Then our loyal hearts will be linked with yours
And the hopes of our class will follow you:
Dear McBurney, may she live forever,
And forever her sons be true.*

Lower

School

Lower School Year

During 1955-56 the Lower School enjoyed a particularly successful year. Separated as it is from the Middle and Upper Schools, with its own principal and faculty, many of the older students do not realize the extent of the activities centered around the Third Floor Foyer. Day after day these activities build up, finding expression in the big days of the Lower School year.

The first of these events is the Christmas concert. Most of the members of the choir are Lower School boys. How flat the Christmas carols would sound without the sopranos and altos! The second is the dramatic night. This year it was held on March 22 and 23, Mr. Ball presenting Six Who Pass while the Lentils Boil and Aria da Capo and Mr. Rock conducting the Brooklyn Baseball Cantata. Parents-Alumni Night found over a hundred fathers and mothers looking at their sons' exhibits and watching them at play in the gyms and the pools.

Trips were made at regular intervals — to the Planetarium, museums and industrial plants.

Athletically the boys received a great deal of attention. The playing fields of Central Park, the gyms and the pools were used freely. Intramural competition added zest to the games — the four classes organizing teams to vie with one another. A color contest ended each term with the winning team having its name inscribed on a wall plaque.

STUDENT COUNCIL

During the past year the Student Council, under the direction of Mr. Bowman, played an active part in initiating and carrying through school projects. William Rose and Roderick Nash were installed as president and vice-president immediately after the beginning of the fall term. Their first project, Field Day, was well planned. No fault of theirs that a hurricane cancelled the outing. The Social Affairs Committee, headed by Jack Fields and Dick Stoeltzing sponsored two dances, the Hallowe'en Prom and the Stevens Basketball Game and Dance. As usual the council took charge of raising a Christmas fund for the non-professional staff of the school. Chapel services were organized on a more popular basis, and attendance showed immediate improvement.

Roderick Nash and Edward Cox were elected president and vice-president soon after the second term began. Their first task was the organization of Parents-Alumni Night, which drew its usual overflow crowd on March 2. A Spring Field Day, to give the seniors a chance to play the faculty at baseball, is being planned for May. Of the spring dances, the one with Bentley School and the Spring Prom were the most successful. In the field of citizenship, most of the council's efforts were directed toward making the Clean-up Drive a success.

Both presidents wish to thank the students of the school for their co-operation in making the year a success.

McBURNEIAN

This year the McBurneian continued to be a credit to the school. Each issue showed evidences of fine writing, smart reporting, and interesting features. Jack Fields, with his two associates, Bruce Brown and Steve Heyman, kept the literary staff working, while Mike Abrahams kept the fourth page filled with ads.

Jeremy Griffith turned out some of the best features the McBurneian has ever boasted, the most interesting being his three part story on Columbus Circle past and present. Dave Mills and John Sloss kept the school informed on the progress of the championship swimming team, the speedy soccer squad, and the other teams. During the year the McBurney Ditto was revitalized under the direction of Bruce Nims, Bob Yin, and Bob Wasserman. They brought out those on-the-spot extras needed to keep the student body informed of current happenings.

No newspaper is complete without pictures; Tony Koestler handled this department very well. Ray Paganelli, Pete Greenwald, and Dave Dworsky took care of the humor, that indispensable section of a prep school paper. Finally, behind all of the staff's efforts was the faculty adviser, Mr. Leonard, ready to help with advice and encouragement.

To next year's staff, the class of '56 is leaving a healthy newspaper.

Panorama

Parents-Alumni Night

For years Panorama, McBurney's literary magazine, has suffered eclipse. Not since the days of William Walter and Elward Bressett has the magazine's staff been able to solve the problems of production. This year a competent staff led by Mike Abrahams, wrestled with many difficulties and finally produced an issue, the first to be published in almost two years. The students enjoyed the magazine, which contained many stories, articles, and features, one of the most prominent being the winning story of the Short Story Contest.

Assisting Mike Abrahams in the production of the paper were Alfred Parr, Bruce Brown, Jack Fields, Steve Heyman, Charles Thiel, Lee Derenberg, and Steven Kroll. Mr. Flannery was the faculty adviser while Mr. Martens helped with the art work.

As the yearbook is going to press, the editors of Panorama are planning a spring issue entitled "The McBurney Jester". Many problems still remain to be solved, but the staff is conquering each as it arises.

Following tradition, flocks of eager, bright-eyed parents swarmed to McBurney on the night of March 2 to view the accomplishments of their offspring. This event is offered to the parents each year in order that they may acquire a faint idea of what their sons are accomplishing in the fields of science, art, and athletics.

This year, as always, unrelenting young hands steered friends and relatives from one room to another pointing with pride to exhibits of their own making, with even greater pride to the swimming team, which gave a much appreciated demonstration of its prowess, and with admiration at the alumni who returned to play basketball. This year's Alumni-Varsity game was particularly thrilling, ending in a 42-42 tie, the first in the series.

A first among the exhibits was one staged by the members of the Drivers' Education Course. Many parents took the reaction tests, some quite dismayed by their low scores.

As usual the evening ended with dancing in the gymnasium.

This was a year of innovations in McBurney dramatics. Gone are the female impersonators of past years; gone also are the young men who played old men's parts. Realism was the motto of the club. For the adult parts in Dickens' Christmas Carol, Dr. Quinn enlisted the services of Mrs. Blackstone, Mrs. Liron, Mr. Scudder, Mr. Hardenbergh, and Mr. Weeks. Also he upset the orthodoxy of the school by importing girls to play the feminine roles: Reade Johnson and Martha Blackstone. For the senior play, Suzanne d'Autremont was borrowed from the Brearly School for Girls.

What with Mr. Rock borrowing girls from Calhoun to take part in his musical productions and Dr. Quinn departing from ancient tradition, McBurney is no longer the fortress of the masculine.

The old order changeth — no masculine prerogative

Third Annual Father-Son Banquet

On Friday, January 13, 1956, two hundred McBurneyites and their fathers gathered in the social hall of the Broadway Tabernacle to celebrate the Third Annual Father Son Banquet. The speaker of the evening was Dr. Jay B. Nash, returned recently from India, who talked on the meaning and importance of tolerance.

ACADEMIC

CONTESTS

As the year started everyone realized that the race for Academic honors would be fought between the seniors and the sophomores. The seniors jumped ahead in the Spelling Contest when Ray Paganelli and Jeremy Griffith finished one and two. On the stage this battle ended in a tie between the two boys; not until the third playoff was Ray declared the winner. Bruce Nims, a sophomore, finished third. In the Hobby Talks, Richard Slifka narrowly won from Adam Heyman. The winner demonstrated a home made burglar alarm working on the electric eye. Charles Thiel placed third with a humorous talk on finger painting. The sophomores walked away with the Vocabulary Contest, racking up over thirty points and going into the lead. Bruce Nims won this one for the second year in a row; he must have a vocabulary. Myron Lounsbury won the Short Story contest with a tale of an old derelict trying to find a place in society. Jeremy Griffith placed second — his third second of the year. Ted Koppel won the Book Mart, talking on a volume about the Nazi atrocities. Bruce Nims came in second, speaking on his favorite topic, the Civil War. John Brent won the Oratorical Contest with an impassioned harangue against the abuses of television as a medium for advertising. The Declamation Contest found Kenny Bleeth winning for the second year in a row. Adam Heyman won a second place, and Ruffen Cotton a third.

Crowned State Prep School Champions at Colgate, Westchester County Champions and New York City Champions, the swimming team ran away with its dual meets, breaking a school record by scoring 66 points against Fieldston. The mermen even won one of their meets against college freshmen. This was a team to be proud of.

Two rivalries enlivened the season. The first was a team contest with Peekskill Military Academy as the opponent. The teams first met at the Brown Meet, Peekskill beating out McBurney by one point by winning the free style relay. Again in the dual meet Peekskill won when the McBurney free style relay suffered from the jitters. But he who laughs last laughs best. At Colgate McBurney won by a single point when the same free style relay team came through in grand style. That defeat swamped Peekskill. In the Westchester championships McBurney doubled their point score. The second rivalry was personal, between Doug McCartney and Fieldston's Steve Kurtin in the 100 yard breaststroke. McCartney won this event in 1.06.5, a prep school record.

The team is losing its stars, but this year's lesser lights look as if they will keep McBurney near the top of the swimming heap for some years to come.

Football

McBurney opened the 1955 season against Halstead at MacComsdam Park. The two teams battled on even terms for four periods with the final score a 31-31 tie. Pete Eichhorn and Doug McCartney scored two touchdowns each while Will Caterson scored one.

The second game against arch-rival Montclair resulted in a heart-breaking loss for McBurney. The gridgers were unable to get a smooth offense going and even though the defense was good, lost 20-12. Pete Eichhorn and Will Caterson each scored one touchdown for the offense while Fred Pivko and Owen Gavigan starred on defense.

Against Oakland, the gridger's third opponent, the offense was sensational. McBurney scored six touchdowns while allowing only four and won 40-25. Fred Pivko, Ken Fielder, Owen Gavigan, and Will Caterson were tremendous on defense while John McGovern and Doug McCartney with two touchdowns each and Pete Eichhorn and John Sloss with one led the offense.

This was it. The final game of the year against Collegiate. The gridgers were fired up for this one and blasted Collegiate into submission. The final score was 59-14. McBurney's 59 points in this game set a new school record for points scored in one game. Doug McCartney scored four touchdowns, Pete Eichhorn and John Sloss scored two each and John McGovern added one.

Soccer

First row: Paganelli, Daly, Arneth, Mills, Porres, Ullman, Rae, Mr. Doriani
 Second row: Engler, Greenwald, Koppel, Moore, Woltson, Hartogs
 Third row: Yin, Ross, Lambert, Ressimeyer, Bobrovsky
 Fourth row: Hawkins, Price, Ryden, Liggett

The booters opened up the season with a 2-1 victory over Elizabeth Irwin. Captain Dave Mills scored both goals. Barnard was McBurney's second victim. Mike Hartogs scored two goals and Ted Koppel added one. McBurney's first defeat was suffered at the hands of Birch Walthen, 1-0. The booters snapped back and defeated Columbia Grammar. Mike Hartogs scored the only goal of the contest. Concordia fell to McBurney, 4-0. Koppel scored twice and Mills and Moore scored one each. New Lincoln caused McBurney's second defeat. The team finished out its league schedule with a 1-0 win over Garden Country Day. Koppel provided the winning margin. This victory put McBurney in third place.

In the last week of the season McBurney was hit by a man power shortage. Nevertheless, the booters took on their three toughest opponents, Fieldston, Kew Forest, and Staten Island Academy. All three games resulted in losses. Fieldston edged McBurney 3-2. Mills and Rae scored in a losing cause. The team lost its last two games by identical 2-0 scores.

The backbone of the soccer team was its defense which allowed an average of only one goal per game. Arneth, Greenwald, Lambert, Porres, Daly, Ullman, and Maloof composed McBurney's powerful backline.

Four boys made the All Scholastic Soccer Squad. Koppel, Mills and Porres made the first team. Arneth was placed on the second team.

The basketball season should be written in two parts; the first telling of a horrible team losing practically all of its games, the second recording a series of victories. The two high-lights of the season were the Bedford Park game where the McBurney cagers scored 97 points, a new record for the school, and the Barnard game. Barnard, reputedly the best prep school team in New York, was leading at half time by 17 points. During the second half, however, the Green and White came to life, giving Barnard heart failure before the final whistle. McBurney lost, but the second half showing was thrilling.

The squad was made up of five seniors, four juniors, and two sophomores. The two co-captains, Ken Minoia and John Sloss, were the high scorers for the year; Ken with 338 points and John with 135. Behind them came Al Engler with 121 points, Al Parr with 82, Dick Kahr with 80, Ken Weiner with 48, George Bardoff with 16, Dave Mills with 8, and Teddy Daniels with 4. George Hutchinson and Tony Price, the other two members of the varsity squad, had no chance to score.

Fencing

The McBurney Fencing Team completed a most exciting season. Under the leadership of the team captain, Michael Abrahams, the fencers won their first meet by beating their arch rival, Strom King, by a score of six to three. The second meet, held at Horace Mann, was lost by a single touch. This was a home and home series and McBurney again lost to Horace Mann seven to two.

Michael Abrahams was the high scorer of the team winning eight out of his eleven bouts. Bruce Brown completed the year winning five out of twelve bouts and the team manager, Richard Christin, won two of his six bouts. Other members of the team were Peter Stack and Jack Fields.

In the Westchester Championships bad luck again visited the team as they lost the challenge round by one touch. With most of the team graduating this year, Coach Rohdes looks for new talent in the coming year.

Golf

This year's golf schedule is the fullest in McBurney's history; unfortunately, however, the early copy date for the yearbook precludes publishing any scores.

Back from last year's team are Ken Leffler, Bill Rose, and Mickey Shapiro. Add the newcomers — Bruce Brown, John Brent, and Gerald Schneiderman — and prospects look bright for a successful season. Bill Rose, who tied for third in last year's Westchester Tournament, hopes to better that place this year.

Tennis

As the tennis team begins its spring practice, prospects look very good, so excellent in fact that among the racket wielders there is talk of winning the Best Team Trophy from the denizens of the deep.

Players returning from last year's squad include Paul Arneth, Richard Bier, George Boltres, Ronald Friedman, Raleigh Schwab, Steve Stillerman, Robert Wasserman, and Manager Cliff Jacobson. Two new players have been added; Lee Hunt and Al Tobias. With this array Mr. Ball hopes to put a team on the courts which will be strong in all departments. In fact, McBurney has high hopes of winning the A.A.P.S. Crown for the first time in five years.

Baseball

As the signs of spring appear, McBurney's baseball team is looking forward to a great season. Under the tutelage of Coach Edson Scudder everyone is expecting the team to have one of the finest records in McBurney history.

The team has many veterans returning this year which explains the optimism. Infielders Ted Simon, Doug McCartney, Ken Fielder, and Ted Daniels, outfielders Will Caterson, Dave Mills, and John Sloss, and pitcher Fred Pivko are returning this year. They will be bolstered by newcomers Rod Nash, John McGovern, Tony Price and Owen Gavigan.

Two problems face Mr. Scudder this year. One is finding a catcher and the other is finding two pitchers to help Fred Pivko carry the load. The candidates for catcher are Ken Fielder, Rod Nash, and John McGovern. Best bet for the job seems Ken Fielder with the others not far behind. As Fred Pivko is the only returning pitcher with experience, two more pitchers must be found. Coach Scudder intends to convert outfielder Dave Mills, a lefty, to a pitcher.

This move, if successful, will ease the need for moundsmen and enable Ken Fielder to be the third pitcher.

Student Manager of athletics, Bo Lum Lee, has entered McBurney in the M.A.A.P.S. baseball league. McBurney's schedule this year is:

April 13	Collegiate	home
April 17	Locust Valley	home
April 19	Columbia Grammar	home
April 24	Fieldston	away
April 27	Woodmere Academy	home

Track

The outlook for McBurney's 1956 track team is good. Last year the Green and White trackmen gained three dual meets while losing one; they placed third in the Westchester Championships and eighth in the Metropolitan area.

Nine lettermen are back from last year's squad: William Moore and Andrew Ullman, 100 yard dash and broad jump; Dick Stoeltzing, 220 yard dash; Pete Eichhorn, Al Parr, and Herb Zapf, 440 yard run; Richard Hemmings and George Littman, half-mile and mile runs. They will be joined by Alex Standewick and Kenneth Bleeth, both members of last fall's cross country team. As soon as outdoor practice begins another twenty boys are expected.

The freshman basketball team, playing an ambitious ten-game schedule against teams such as Riverdale, Horace Mann, Barnard, and Poly Prep, swept unbeaten through all opposition during the 1955-56 campaign.

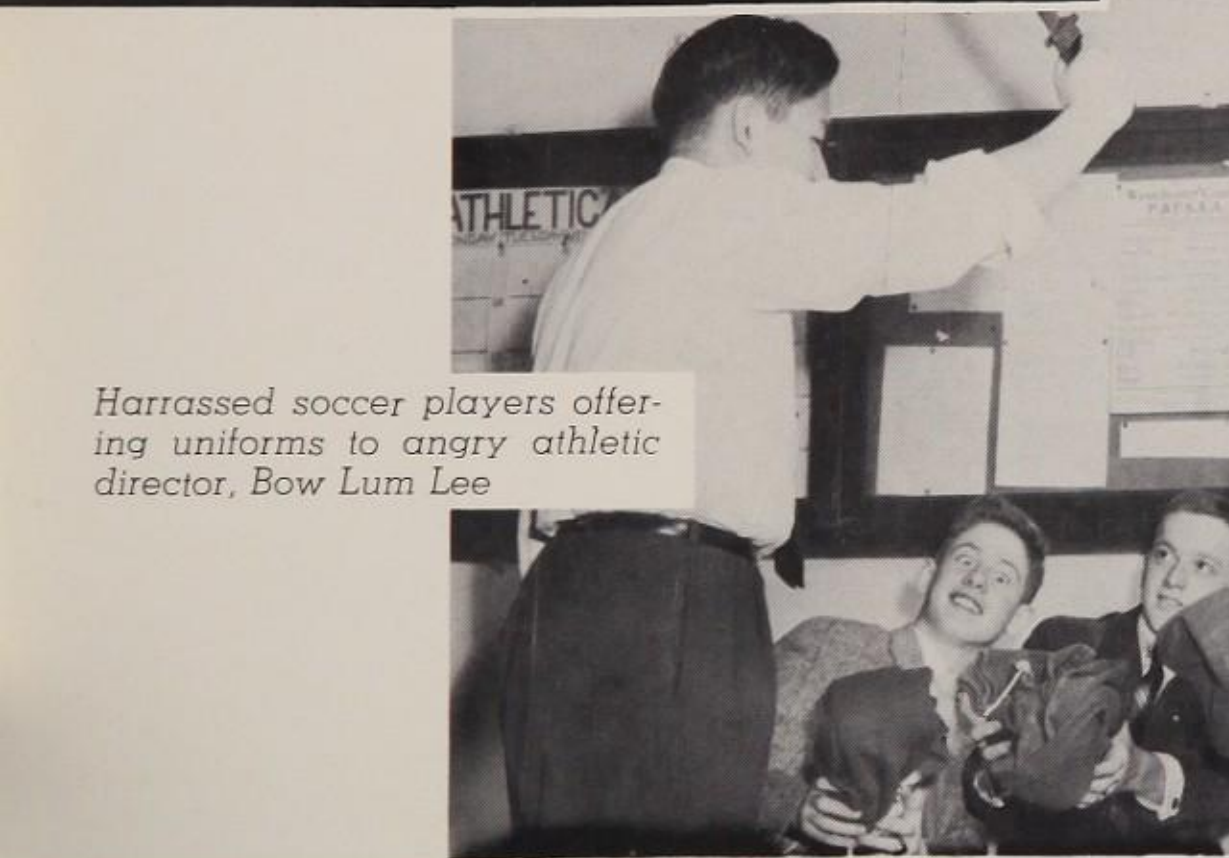

Leading the scorers with 183 points was Captain Barton Solomon while Richard Ader took runner-up honors with 161 points and was, in addition, the club's leading rebounder. Forward Alan Jacobs almost reached the magic 100-point figure and had big days against Englewood and Kew Forest. Rounding out the starting five were Marvin Baron and Robert Klein, both of whom scored steadily and were defensive stalwarts.

Scott Rearick and Jeff Kirson made valuable contributions in many of the games and Arthur Drago, Raymond Joost, Frank Frohman, Elliot Bernstein, and Bruce Gordon broke into the line-

Yorkville Squad

McBurney's community service contribution, the Yorkville Youth Project, continued during the past winter as benevolently as it has in any past year. Twenty-one boys gave up their afternoons to help the underprivileged children on the Upper East Side, serving in five different play centers under the guidance of experienced adult leaders. The McBurney boys helped with arts and crafts, games, and story hours; and in return received valuable experience in leadership, initiative, and responsibility.

Buck Hill Falls

This year the conference, to which all of the principal prep schools of the Middle States send representatives, was centered on the topic, "Why Religion?" Richard Bier, Walter Liggett, Ray Paganelli, and Charles Thiel, the McBurney delegates, profited greatly from the lectures, the group discussions, and the chance to exchange ideas with students from other schools. Since Buck Hills Fall Inn is one of the principal Pocono Mountain resorts, the boys also enjoyed the winter sports and the social life.

McBurney has sent students to the conference ever since its first meeting. The reports brought back to the school have showed how deeply the meetings have affected all the participants.

Chapel

One of the growing activities of McBurney is the weekly non-sectarian chapel service. This term the attendance has increased noticeably. Services are held every Thursday at noon, the order of worship including a reading from the Bible, two hymns, and a talk by a guest speaker. Mr. Chamberlin, headmaster, and Mr. Rock, music leader, are the faculty sponsors; Richard Stoeltzing, Richard Hemmings, and William Rose are the student leaders. Other boys have participated as speakers.

Since McBurney is a branch of the Y.M.C.A., these weekly chapel services assume a great importance in the lives of the students. This worship and the talks by visiting clergymen, a regular feature of the assembly program, represent the important religious section of the curriculum.

Chess Club

Beginning on February 25 and continuing for eight weeks — with time out for College Boards and Easter — the McBurney Chess Team (David Golforb, Gerald Klyne, Lance Lee, and George Liggett) upheld the intellectual honor of the school at the Private Schools' Chess Tournament held at the Manhattan Chess Club. At the end of three weeks, the team had scored only three points of a possible twelve — George Liggett, $1\frac{1}{2}$; Gerald Klyne, 1; and Lance Lee, $\frac{1}{2}$.

Model Railroad Club

President	George Littman
Vice-president	Paul Arneth
Edward Cox	John Schretzmeyer
Charles Evers	Roy Silva
Carl Reinhard	Kevin Sweeney

During the past year, the members of the Model Railroad Club continued work on the club layout. Many improvements were made in the electrical system, and a new yard operating system was installed.

On Parents-Alumni Night, the most important show of the year, a unique intercommunication system was tried, consisting of army surplus microphones and headphones. All directions were transmitted through this system.

Although much has been done on the layout, it is far from finished. Work will continue for many years, providing enjoyment and education for all model railroad fans.
